ORVIS RECON

ORVIS HYDROS REELS

Refinement and improvement are the hallmarks of quality. The new Orvis Hydros® Reel is the result of our own desire to make something great, that much better. We took a best-selling reel and further reduced the weight. We changed the drag knob to be more ergonomically accessible. We further refined the seal on the sealed carbon drag. We radiused the reel foot for kink-free leader protection. Powerful drag with zero start-up inertia. The Hydros is now a standard large arbor and yet still offers excellent retrieval rates and less line coiling. Imported.

RECON FLY RODS

Recon has been one of the most successful rod series we've ever offered, but rather than sit on that success, we decided to make it even better. Utilizing what we learned in building our now legendary Helios™ 3, our Vermont craftsmen turned their attention to redesigning Recon, incorporating H3 performance attributes and construction techniques to refine and improve. The result? Increased hoop strength, better tracking, improved damping, and, ultimately, significantly improved accuracy. In short: the reimagined Recon is a mid-priced rod that offers performance far and away beyond the price. Not only is it more accurate, but it is stronger, more impact resistant, and offers the mid-price angler access to the best of Orvis fly-rod technology. The new Recon Series offers 22 models from trout to tarpon with 14 freshwater models, including four 10-foot rods in 2-, 3-, 4- and 5-weight, and eight big-game rods, including two 10-foot rods in 7-, and 8-weight models. Backed by our 25-Year Guarantee. Made in the USA.
